2.5   DocuWare will exercise reasonable efforts to provide a 99.5% availability of the Services per calendar year, excluding any Downtime. "Downtime" shall mean unscheduled downtime of the Services caused by emergencies or Force Majeure Events (as defined below) and downtime due to scheduled maintenance activities of the Services ("Scheduled Maintenance"). DocuWare will use reasonable efforts to limit any downtime due to Scheduled Maintenance to four (4) times per year for up to eight (8) hours each, and to notify by way of e-mail or via the DocuWare website with a notice period of at least five (5) calendar days.

2.6   The Customer will install and configure Services in a way which avoids any excessive utilization of DocuWare systems.

2.7   The Services require Internet access and computing facilities with the system requirements identified in the applicable technical documentation available at http://go.docuware.com/whitepaper-cloud. Customer acknowledges and agrees that such requirements may be changed from time to time, and DocuWare shall use reasonable efforts to provide at least four (4) weeks' notice of any such changes. Customer is responsible for all activities that occur in Authorized User accounts and for Authorized Users' compliance with this Agreement.

3.   DocuWare´s Rights

3.1   To the limited extent necessary to perform the Services, Customer hereby grants to DocuWare and its subcontractors, on a royalty-free basis, the right to copy, distribute, perform, display, create derivative works and otherwise use any data and documents provided by Customer and any Authorized User in connection with the Services. Customer hereby represents, warrants and covenants to have been effectively granted all necessary rights by its customers, users and all affected third parties which are necessary for the foregoing license grant.

3.2   DocuWare shall process personal data (as defined in Schedule 1) within the Services in accordance with Schedule 1. The Customer shall ensure that the collection, forwarding and processing of personal data fully complies with all applicable data privacy and protection laws.

3.5   The Customer and the Authorized User shall immediately notify DocuWare of any loss of any access codes and/or of any use of the Services not in compliance with the terms of this Agreement.

3.6   Other than as expressly set forth in this Agreement, no other rights are granted to Customer. DocuWare reserves all rights, title and interest in and to the Services, including all related intellectual property rights.

4.   Term and Termination

4.1   This Agreement commences on the Effective Date and continues until all Orders executed under this Agreement have expired or been terminated ("Term"). Upon expiration or termination of this Agreement or the applicable Order, DocuWare will delete data in accordance with Section 3.5 of Schedule 1.

4.2   Any Order executed under this Agreement shall have an initial minimum term of at least twelve (12) months (or such longer period as set forth in the applicable Order; the "Initial Term"). Thereafter, each Order shall automatically renew for consecutive twelve (12) month periods (each, a "Renewal Term") upon the expiration of the Initial Term and any Renewal Term; provided, however, either Party may elect not to renew an Order upon at least thirty (30) days' written notice prior to end of the Initial Term or any Renewal Term of such Order. Upon at least thirty (30) days' notice to DocuWare prior to the end of the Initial Term and/or Renewal Term of an Order, Customer may also elect to reduce or increase the scope under the applicable Order (i.e., volumes and/or capacities), which reduction or increase shall take effect upon the end of the applicable Initial Term and/or Renewal Term.

4.3   Either Party may terminate this Agreement and the applicable Order for cause. For purposes of this Agreement, "cause" shall exist: (i) in case of a material breach of the Agreement to the extent such breach remains uncured for more than thirty (30) days following receipt of a written notice of such material breach; or (ii) if the other Party becomes the subject of a petition in bankruptcy or any other proceeding relating to insolvency, receivership, liquidation or assignment for the benefit of creditors.

5.   Payment Terms/Invoicing

5.1   Customer shall pay to DocuWare monthly (i.e., only available for on-line orders with a credit card account), yearly or multiyear fees for the relevant Services in advance as set forth in the applicable Order or as modified pursuant to Section 5.2.

5.2   DocuWare may, at any time, adjust prices by issuing a new price list. Unless the price list expressly specifies a different start date for the price adjustment, such new price list shall apply with immediate effect for: (i) Orders placed after the issuance of the new price list and (ii) existing Orders entering into a Renewal Term more than thirty (30) days after the earlier to occur of either: (x) issuance of the new price list or (y) notification to Customer of the new price list.

5.3   In the event of any late payment by Customer to either (i) DocuWare or (ii) in connection with Customer's third party financing of Services procured under this Agreement, DocuWare may, at its option, terminate or suspend the provision of the Services to Customer, and such termination or suspension shall be effective upon ten (10) days' notice to Customer. In the event of any such suspension and/or termination of the Services, Customer shall remain responsible for the payment of any and all fees to DocuWare for the applicable Initial Term and/or Renewal Term of this Agreement. DocuWare shall have no liability or responsibility for any termination or suspension pursuant to this Section 5.3. Any fees not paid when due to DocuWare shall incur interest at the rate of one and a half percent (1.5%) per month or the maximum rate permitted by applicable law, whichever is lower.

5.4   Unless otherwise expressly provided, DocuWare's fees do not include any direct or indirect local, state, federal or foreign taxes, levies, duties or similar governmental assessments of any nature, including value-added, use or withholding taxes (collectively, "Taxes"). Customer is responsible for paying all Taxes associated with Customer's purchases hereunder, excluding taxes based on DocuWare's net income or property. If DocuWare has the legal obligation to pay or collect Taxes for which Customer is responsible under this Section, the appropriate amount shall be invoiced to and paid by Customer, unless Customer provides DocuWare with a valid tax exemption certificate authorized by the appropriate taxing authority.

6.   Cooperation duties of Authorized User

DocuWare may, in its discretion, remedy Defects either by providing patches, workarounds, updates or upgrades or by providing or having provided remote support as available under http://support.docuware.com. For purposes of this Section 7, "Defect" shall mean a material deviation of the quality of the Services from the quality described in Section 1.1 provided (i) such defect must be reproducible or documented by automatically created output; (ii) the usability of the Services must be materially adversely affected; and (iii) written notice of the defect must be provided to DocuWare by Customer on a timely basis pursuant to this Section 7.1.

7.2 In no event shall DocuWare be responsible for defects, operational, performance issues or other events resulting from Customer's technology infrastructure, including, but not limited to, software applications, drivers, network hardware or software or broadband service, to the extent not provided by DocuWare. Customer shall not report issues associated with such Customer technology infrastructure to DocuWare as Defects in the Services. Customer shall compensate DocuWare for any efforts related to such non-warranty issues at DocuWare´s then current rates.

8.2 The Customer shall: (i) give DocuWare prompt notice of any relevant claim; (ii) not admit any liability or attempt to settle the claim without DocuWare's prior consent; (iii) provide reasonable cooperation at its own expense to DocuWare in the defense and settlement of the claim; and (iv) give DocuWare sole authority to defend or settle the claim.

8.3 In the defense or settlement of any claim under Section 8.1, DocuWare may, in its sole discretion, procure the right for the Customer to: (i) continue using the Services; or (ii) replace or modify the Services to be non-infringing; or (iii) if these remedies are not reasonably available, terminate this Agreement and applicable Order on thirty (30) days' notice to the Customer without any additional liability or costs.

8.4 DocuWare will not be liable under this Section 8 to the Customer if an alleged copyright infringement is based on: (i) any modification of the Services by anyone other than DocuWare; or (ii) the Customer's use of the Services contrary to the instructions or documentation provided by DocuWare; or (iii) the Customer's continued use of the Services after receiving notice of the alleged or actual infringement; or (iv) a combination of the Services with any other product or service which in the absence of such combination would not have resulted in any infringement.

10.5   If the Receiving Party discloses or uses (or threatens to disclose or use) any Confidential Information of the Disclosing Party in breach of confidentiality protections hereunder, the Disclosing Party shall have the right, in addition to any other remedies available to it, to seek injunctive relief to enjoin such acts, it being specifically acknowledged by the Parties that any other available remedies are inadequate.

A Party who becomes aware of a Force Majeure Event which gives rise to, or which is likely to give rise to, any failure or delay in performing its obligations under this Agreement, will: (i) forthwith notify the other; and (ii) inform the other of the period for which it is estimated that such failure or delay will continue. 11.6   Should any provision of this Agreement or Order be held by a court to be invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions shall not be affected thereby.

11.7   The Parties are independent contractors. This Agreement does not create a partnership, franchise, joint venture, agency, fiduciary or employment relationship between the Parties.

11.8   No failure or delay by either Party in exercising any right under this Agreement or Order shall constitute a waiver of that right.

11.9   Any notice, request, demand, or other communication required or permitted hereunder shall be in writing, shall reference this Agreement and shall be deemed to be properly given: (i) when delivered personally; (ii) when sent by facsimile, with written confirmation of receipt by the sending facsimile machine; (iii) when sent by email, with written confirmation of receipt by email; (iv) five (5) business days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid; or (v) two (2) business days after deposit with a private industry express courier, with written confirmation of receipt.
